

African Feminists: Talking the Walk

A programme hosted by the African Gender Institute
University of Cape Town

CELEBRATING THE GENDER EQUITY UNIT (UNIVERSITY OF THE WESTERN CAPE): 20 YEARS OF ACTIVISM

With performances of scenarios from the popular production, “Reclaiming the P... word”

About “Reclaiming the P...word”

“Reclaiming the P...word” is a play produced by the Gender Equity Unit (UWC). It focuses on black women's experiences of sexuality, pregnancy, health, pleasure and pain. The play has travelled widely to different places including the Grahamstown Festival and Johannesburg. The play has also received many accolades.

“Reclaiming the P...Word” confronts misogyny and gendered powerlessness and turn them around with humour and strength’
- Teresa Barnes and Amina Mama

TUESDAY 12 MARCH 2013

5.00 pm - 6.30 pm (with wine and fruit juices)
All Africa House Common Room (Middle Campus, UCT)

Please contact Hilda Ferguson for more information - hilda.ferguson@uct.ac.za / 021 6502970